AMAMO WORKING PRACTICES

MARCH 25TH 2020

Students, Learners and Apprentices.

The Government restrictions due to coronavirus mean that the support for you has to be remote rather than face-to-face. Remote support can be very effective. We can usually be flexible in the time of support, we can use your preferred method: Skype, FaceTime, or similar, and provide telephone support. Your support consultant can also help you in accessing your university or college online learning resources and lectures – just ask them.

Assessors and Disability Advisers.

Amano is continuing to provide full remote support services to our students, learners and apprentices. The Government restrictions due to coronavirus mean that support has to be remote rather than face-to-face, and Amano will offer various remote, online solutions to achieve ongoing support. Our consultants will also be supporting their students to access the university and college online learning resources.

The Amano head office is fully functional, recommend new students to Amano in the normal way, if you have any queries our contact details are the same:

Email: dsa@amanotech.com Tel: 01822 600060

Thank you, we hope that together we can minimise the disruption and return to more normal working practice quickly.

Best wishes and we hope that you stay well,

Amano Student Support.
